

ENTRY LEVEL ENVIRONMENTAL PLANNER

JACOBS CONSULTANCY, a consulting firm based in Burlingame, California, is seeking highly motivated individuals with an environmental science or civil engineering degree (2+ years of experience preferred). JACOBS CONSULTANCY looks for outstanding candidates with strong credentials, with a passion for client service, and who enjoy working as part of a team on cutting-edge projects for U.S. and international clients. For more information on JACOBS CONSULTANCY, please visit our website at <http://www.jacobs-consultancy.com>.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Assist on noise analysis, air quality analysis, federal environmental reviews (NEPA), environmental management systems, and corporate sustainability projects—each representing individual aspects of the complex system of interrelated functions of airport management and facilitating strategic growth of airport infrastructure.
- Occasional travel to client locations to present and discuss interim and final results of consulting assignments.
- Perform other duties as directed by project managers.

Core Competencies

- Must have demonstrated aptitude in environmental sciences and direct experience in aviation planning
- Ability to effectively communicate both in writing and verbally with decision-makers at all levels in our and client organizations
- Superior problem solving and analytic skills as well as spatial analysis capability
- Air quality or noise modeling experience and experience with the NEPA process
- Highly resourceful and self-directed, and enjoy working in an environment that offers the freedom and autonomy to develop and implement best practices.
- Strong working knowledge of Microsoft Word, Excel, and PowerPoint; understanding of GIS

Education

- Masters degree and 2+ years of experience in civil/environmental engineering, environmental science, urban planning, or a related infrastructure planning field
- Excellent academic record

JACOBS CONSULTANCY offers highly competitive compensation and benefits package and the opportunity to work side by side with recognized industry leading professionals, all looking to create a firm without limits to creativity and professional growth. Opportunities are available in our Burlingame, Chicago, and Chantilly (Washington, D.C. area) offices.